

ONE PERFECT DAY IN

Athens

Day 1

Morning

Breakfast

Grab a greek yogurt, a spanakopita, and more importantly a greek coffee to fuel up for the day.

Acropolis

Head there as early as you can to avoid the crowds. This is without a doubt the most popular sight in the city so it can get very crowded. Try to book tickets in advance and get a tour guide to fully grasp the history. This hill is the location of the famous Parthenon as well. Fee on site.

Afternoon

Lunch

Walk down from Acropolis to the Plaka neighborhood to enjoy some al-fresco dining. The restaurants offer amazing outdoor options, delicious food and great table wine. Must-try dishes: gyro, moussaka, souvlaki, octopus, grape leaves and cheese pies.

Acropolis Museum

To finish your history lesson for the day, head over to this beautiful spot to admire their impressive collection of ancient objects. Make sure you purchase the tickets ahead of time to skip on the massive line that forms outside.

Monastiraki Square

Head over to this cute central square which is about 15 minutes away.
Take a small ice-cream break, shop for some souvenirs and people watch.

Evening

Sunset

Mars Hill is an excellent spot to see the sunset from and it's also close to the square. Walk there to admire the views.

To end the night, head back into town and find a bar that offers strong cocktails and night views of the Acropolis. A lot of them can be found in Monastiraki Square. It is well worth seeing it during different times of the day.
