

THREE PERFECT DAYS IN

Mykonos

Day 1

- Mykonos Town
 - Spend the morning exploring "Little Venice". This is a very picturesque area where you'll want to get some good shots in the narrow streets. These streets are also filled with great shopping boutiques so make sure to visit those too.
 - Matoyianni Street is your central navigation point.
- Windmills
 - These are a short walk from the Little Venice area. There isn't much to do there but they are a pretty sight to admire. It tends to get very crowded especially toward the evening so if you want to take some pictures, come super early to skip the crowds.
- Lunch
 - Walk back to shore and grab a table along the water for a good bite. If you're on a budget, you might have to drop the view and head back into the street maze for some less expensive options.
- Beach Time
 - Since you will be partying all night, choose a beach that will get you in the mood to party but doesn't overwhelm you with the day drinking. I recommend choosing one of the following options: Paraga beach should meet this expectation easily, Agios Ioannis is less crowded, easier to access and the most pretty one, Psarou is where you'll find the fancy crowd and Platis Gialos is a calm and beautiful spot to relax.
- Dinner and Party
 - If you came to Mykonos, the chances that you're looking for a party are pretty high. Grab a hearty dinner to prep your stomach for a night of alcohol. Head over to the Paradise Beach area for a good beach club. Prepare to drop some money on drinks here. If there is a performer, you might need to purchase tickets ahead as well.

Day 2

- Relax & Recharge
 - If you did Mykonos right, you probably spend the entire morning sleeping as parties in Mykonos last until dawn.
- Back to the beach
 - You'll need to rent a nice lounging chair to relax and enjoy the best thing this island has to offer: the beach. Pick one that also has some beachfront dining so you can enjoy a fresh gyro with some beautiful views. Choose one or explore all: Super Paradise is more laid back for relaxing, Agios Sostis is more remote but you will for sure skip out on the crowds and Ornos has a more family-friendly atmosphere.
 - If you're a champ and still have some energy left, you can also find more music and cocktails at Paradise and Paraga Beaches.
- Dinner and Sunset
 - For this activity, you have to head back to the windmills area as it is a good spot to see the sunset from. Although nothing compares to the Santorini views, this probably comes close as well. You will need a reservation for the evening if you want to watch the sunset and have dinner at the same time. If you have some time at night, head into Little Venice for a bar atmosphere.

Day 3

- Breakfast
 - Get an early start on breakfast as today will be filled with some remote exploring.
- Delos
 - This is a small island not too far from Mykonos so you will have to grab a boat to get there. Being a very important archaeological site, I would recommend visiting if you want to explore instead of lounging on a beach. There are multiple boat vendors to choose from. You can pre-book this trip on the official Delos website or buy tickets in Mykonos town on the day of the trip. You'll pay around 20 euro for your roundtrip and an additional 12 euro entrance fee. There are companies that will give you the option of a tour guide as well if you don't want to explore on your own. Other companies also include additional small islands for an additional fee. This will take up the majority of your day.
